

Job Title: Field Research Supervisor

Abacus Consulting is looking for energetic and self motivated Field Research Supervisor, who can work in accordance with company's values and deliver exceptional results

Responsibilities

- Supervise research projects from the early planning stages to project completion.
- Provide motivation and management of the team members in order to maintain required levels of operational excellence.
- Proactively manage efficient team delivery and output within agreed service levels and project targets.
- Effectively manage project processes within the team, such as time and attendance and reporting to meet the projects deadlines.
- Work with team and make data collection strategies.
- Make research schedules to monitor the activities of research teams.

Requirements

- Data collection and analysis
- Statistical computer software programs
- Qualitative data research
- Quantitative data sets
- Project management
- Communications